SALON CONCERT SERIES

Jazz Pianist & Composer

Steve Barta

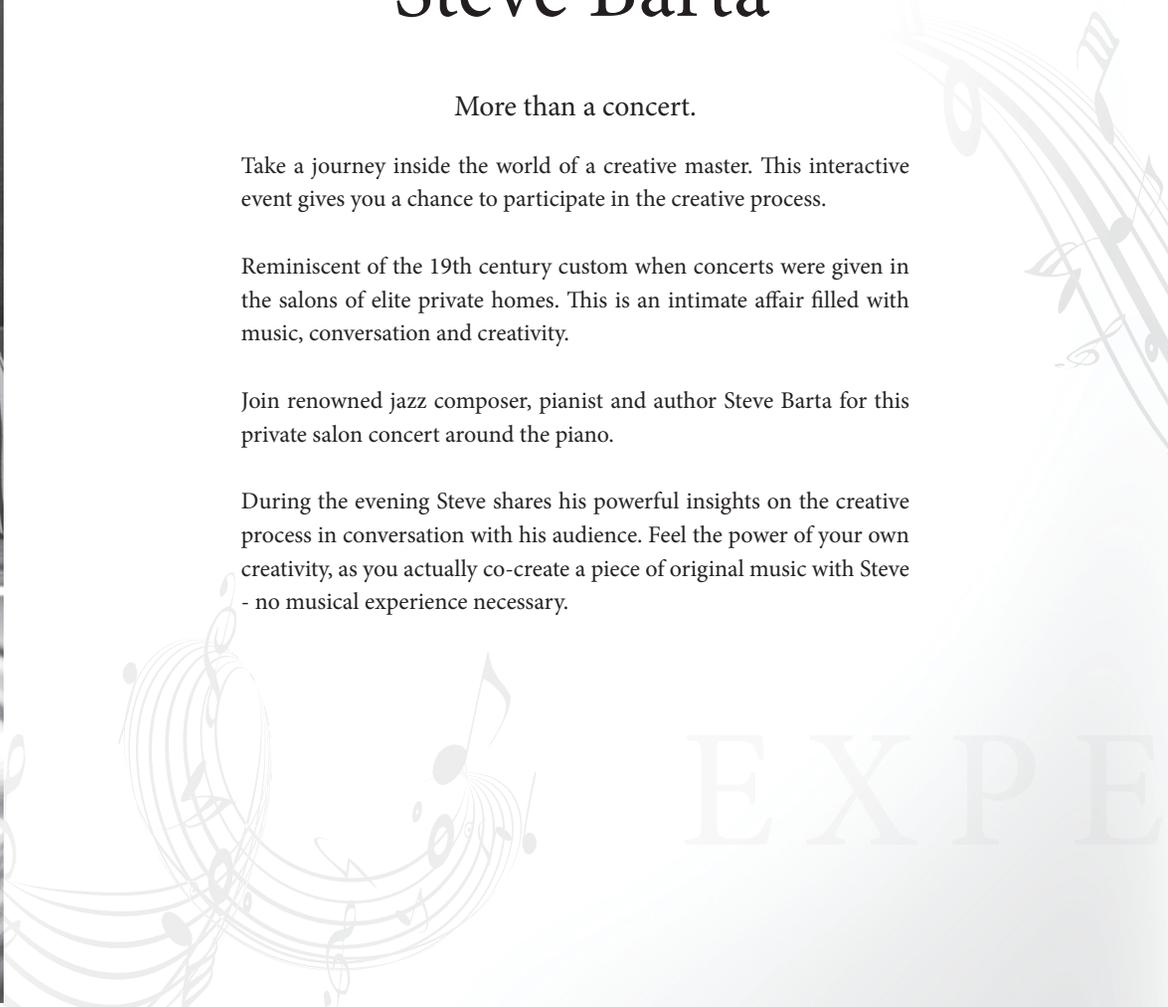

More than a concert.

Take a journey inside the world of a creative master. This interactive event gives you a chance to participate in the creative process.

Reminiscent of the 19th century custom when concerts were given in the salons of elite private homes. This is an intimate affair filled with music, conversation and creativity.

Join renowned jazz composer, pianist and author Steve Barta for this private salon concert around the piano.

During the evening Steve shares his powerful insights on the creative process in conversation with his audience. Feel the power of your own creativity, as you actually co-create a piece of original music with Steve - no musical experience necessary.
